Mr. Lewis' Weekly Round-Up....

Happy New Year to everyone! I trust that your Christmas Break was a good one and that everyone has rolled into 2015 well rested. As I'm sure you've noticed, we have been greeted by 2015 with an arctic blast so it's a great time for reminders. We will go outside as long as the temperature is 38 degrees, even if it's just for a short amount of time. Please have the kids bring coats and other winter gear. Also, if there is inclement weather there are several ways to monitor school closings and delays. You will receive an automated call from the district, we will send a push notification, and you can watch any local television station should the situation arise.

I am looking forward to a great spring semester.
Best wishes to you and your family!

Mark Lewis
